The Shooting Sports Specialist™

THE HISTORY OF CHARLES DALY

Meet Charles Daly. His name first appeared on firearms around 1875 after he and partner August Shoverling began importing hardware, sporting goods and, eventually, firearms in New York City. Joined by Joseph Gales several years later, the company became known as Shoverling, Daly & Gales, a name the company would retain for quite some time. As the company continued to grow and prosper they decided to brand their firearms with an easily recognizable and memorable name and chose Charles Daly. From that day forward Charles Daly's name would grace some of the finest firearms in the world.

Shoverling, Daly & Gales thrived through the late 19th and early 20th century while the Charles Daly name earned a reputation for excellence by importing great firearms from such companies as Schiller, Linder (perhaps some of the finest firearms ever made), later Heym and Sauer of Germany, J&W Tolley of England, Newman of Belgium and Lefever Arms of New York. Charles Daly passed away unexpectedly in 1899, but the company continued under the partnership that by then included his son, Charles Howard Daly.

In 1919 the partnership sold the company. The new owners continued the tradition of importing fine firearms from around the world and marketing them under the Charles Daly name. Henry Modell, Sloan's Sporting Goods, and Outdoor Sports Headquarters, have all laid claim to the Charles Daly name at one time or another while continuing to import excellent quality firearms under this brand. Over the years Beretta, Bernadelli, Garbi, Miroku and many other well-known manufacturers have had their firearms imported and sold in the United States under the Charles Daly name.

marketing them under the Charles Daly name. The line expanded with the inclusion of Charles Daly 1911 pistols and took off with the addition of a line of semi-automatic and pump action shotguns.

Today Charles Daly®, The Shooting Sports Specialist™, has become a marquee name in the firearms industry by providing one of the most in-depth product lines including: Special-order-only Diamond and Diamond Regent over and under and side-by-side shotguns, representing the pinnacle of firearms artistry; a complete line of Empire, Superior and Field Grade shotguns in all imaginable actions, chambering, gauges and barrel configurations; a remarkable selection of Mauser bolt action rifles, actions and barreled actions, in a wide range of calibers with synthetic stocks and European walnut stocks; an impressive line of steel framed 1911 .45 ACP pistols and for 2003, the new Charles Daly M-5 Polymer frame 1911 manufactured by Bul in Israel and the new Charles Daly HP 9mm semi-auto pistol manufactured in the USA.

Like the Charles Daly of old, Charles Daly®, The Shooting Sports Specialist™, is a growing innovative company that constantly adjusts to market dynamics. Charles Daly was one of the first to react to innovations in camouflage techniques and now offers Bill Jordan's revolutionary High Definition camouflage patterns Advantage Timber® HD™ and Realtree Hardwoods® HD™ on the entire line of Field Grade semi-auto and pump action shotguns including the 3-1/2" chambered Maxi-Mag™ shotguns. This year look for the new Advantage® MAX-4™ HD™ wetlands pattern that will be available in 3 models, including a 3-1/2" Maxi-Mag pump, a 3" Field semi-auto and a 3-1/2" Maxi-Mag semi-auto.

In the future, Charles Daly®, The Shooting Sports Specialist™, will continue to look for new and pioneering products while improving and upgrading the current product line, all the while keeping focused on the goal of providing custom crafted products at a competitive price.

Meet Charles Daly® The Shooting Sports Specialist™. The modern era of Charles Daly began in 1996 when K.B.I., Inc.'s President, Michael Kassnar, acquired the brand. Kassnar and his family had been involved in importing firearms from around the globe for more than half a century and had actually been supplying Outdoor Sports Headquarters with Charles Daly products from 1976 to 1985.

In keeping with the Charles Daly tradition of selling custom crafted firearms, K.B.I., Inc. began importing Italian and Spanish over-and-under and side-by-side shotguns and
