

WALTHER[®]
2003

www.waltheramerica.com

Welcome to the 2003 Walther Catalog. You will find several new items in this year's catalog that are sure to be of interest.

The highly successful P22 line has been expanded to include a nickel slide version for a distinctive two-tone look, and a military version has been added with a military green frame.

The P99 line now includes a Titanium Coated slide on the black P99 frame, and the PPK/S line has been expanded with the reintroduction of the PPK.

Also, throughout our catalog, you will find accessories to compliment your Walther pistol, as well as knives, shooting glasses and binoculars. All products are of the same high quality that you have come to expect from Walther.

Don't forget to visit our Walther web site at www.waltheramerica.com. This web site is updated frequently and shows all of our firearms and accessories, along with many links showing where to purchase our products.

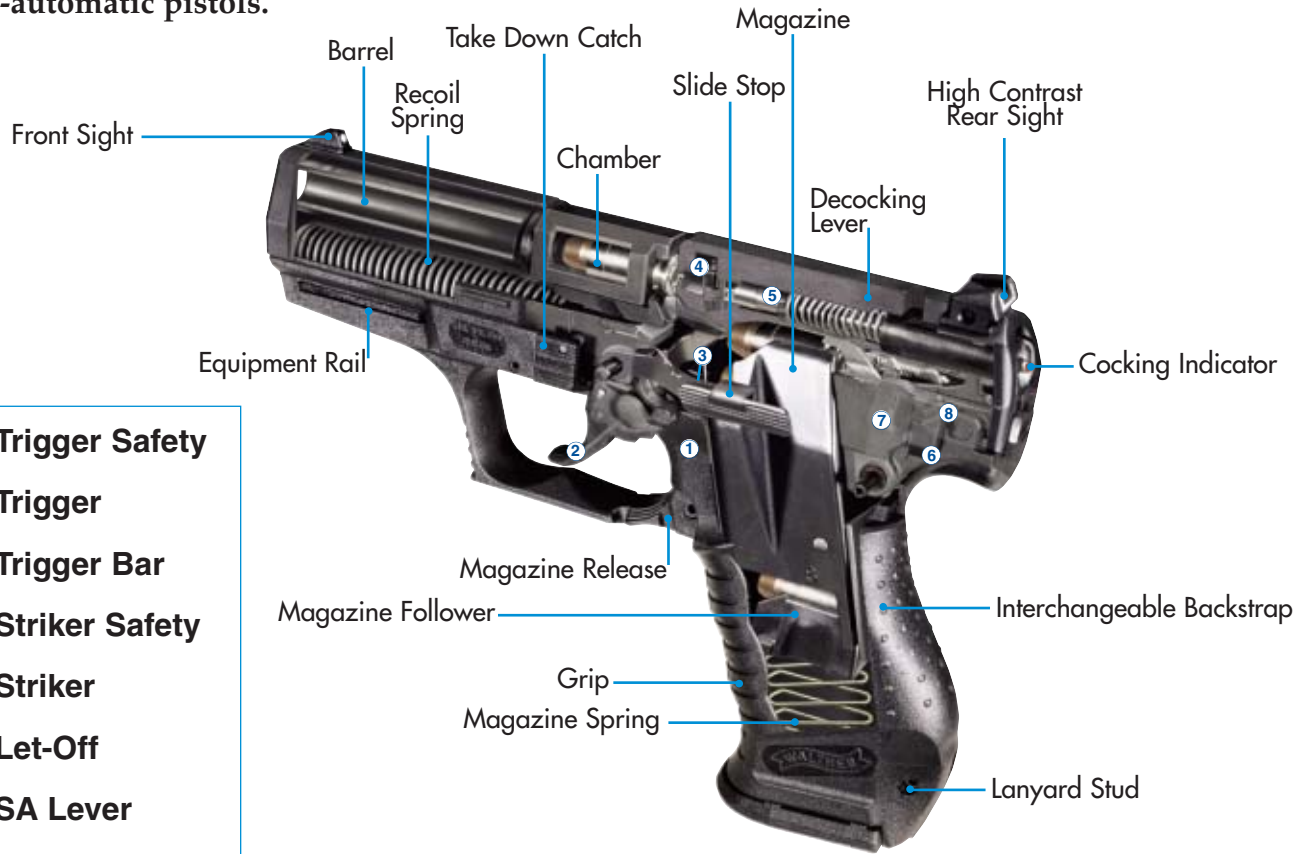

Enjoy the catalog.

Cocking Indicator
Decocked: the striker is recessed into the slide end cap.
Cocked: the striker can be felt extruding from the slide end cap and displays a red mark.

Loaded Chamber Indicator
Unloaded: the extractor is flush with the slide.
Loaded: the extractor is recessed in the slide and a red mark is visible.

Grip
 Three interchangeable backstraps made from shock absorbent material are provided to fit individual hand sizes.

Decocking Lever
 The decocking lever allows safe decocking of the striker and acts as a safety. By integrating it into the slide, any snagging on clothing is prevented.

The P99 was developed according to the stringent specifications of the Technical Commission of the German Police Academy (Pflichtenheft der Deutschen Polizei-Akademie). The P99 offers a combination of features unique to Walther pistols.

- The first striker-fired pistol that combines the advantages of a SA/DA trigger with the ease of operation that only hammerless weapons can offer.
- No exterior hammer to snag on clothing.
- Fewer parts for increased reliability, more compact size and superior durability.
- Simple disassembly and reassembly without the need for tools.
- Ambidextrous magazine catch for improved magazine changes.

WALTHER P99QA

The P99 QA is a P99 that has been developed to meet the demands of Special Response Units. The new Quick Action trigger offers a consistent trigger pull from the first until the last shot. Once the P99 QA has been loaded it is immediately combat ready while maximizing safety for the operator through four independent safety systems. With the QA trigger, the striker is in a precocked position and further trigger pull results in additional discharge. Trigger travel is about 0.27 inch with a trigger weight of approximately 8 lbs. The always safe but short trigger travel guarantees the shooter immediate and precise shot delivery, the decisive factor in defensive situations.

For disassembly, the take-down button can be depressed with either a tool or your finger.

WALTHER P990

The Double Action Only trigger system ensures a consistent trigger weight of about 10 lbs. with a trigger travel of about 0.55 inches, from the first until the last shot. Three automatic safety systems eliminate the possibility of discharge unless the trigger is pulled completely rearward. The DA Only trigger system allows the P990 to be carried safely in a loaded and combat ready condition.
