Howa Machinery, LTD.

Founded in 1907, Howa Machinery, LTD is celebrating its 101st year of operation. Originally established as Toyoda Loom Works, Howa manufactured and sold textile looms. Over the years, Howa moved into the manufacture of cast steel components, which then led to the manufacture of a variety of machine parts. As Howa has grown, it now manufactures Machine Tool Transfer Lines (production line equipment), Flexible Transfer Lines and Flexible Manufacturing Systems. In addition, Howa also makes self contained machining centers, street sweeping equipment and sound-proof windows for the commercial building market. Howa's diverse products serve the automotive, computer, electrical, construction and firearms industries. Howa has long been a rifle manufacturer, providing high quality firearms to the Japanese military and police markets as well as the sport shooting market, worldwide. Howa is ISO9001 certified across its many divisions and operations.

Hatsan Arms Company

Established in Izmir, Turkey in 1976, Hatsan Arms Company is truly one of the few self contained, wholly independent firearms manufacturers in the industry today. Within the confines of the Hatsan operation, the machining of wood blanks into gunstocks, machining of metal parts, heat treating, coiling, finishing, plating, injection molding, welding, engraving and other production operations are conducted, to serve as components in the final assembly of Hatsan's products. Raw materials alone - not pre-assembled or prefinished sub-parts - come in one end of the Hatsan factory, and leave the other end as completed, high quality firearms. Hatsan maintains total control of all manufacturing and assembly operations throughout its 161,000+ sq. ft.

production facility. Doing everything in-house not only improves scheduling, but more importantly, assures the finest in quality control. With 300 workers, 260 machining stations including 31 CNC machines, Hatsan Arms Company possesses broad, state-of-the-art manufacturing capabilities that make it one of the major producers of shotguns in Turkey, and one of the largest producers of airguns worldwide. Design and Engineering is achieved through the most up-to-date 3D CAD system, while all synthetic and metal parts - and assemblies - are analyzed through CAE software. As testament to their quality and innovation, Hatsan Arms Company is ISO9001 certified.

F. LLI Pietta

Internationally renowned for their quality and reliability, F. LLI Pietta of Brescia, Italy plays an important role in the production and supply of replica firearms and shotguns in a worldwide market. Beginning in 1962 as a producer of single barrel, side-by-side and over/under shotguns for the hunting community, F. LLI Pietta branched out into the production of muzzleloading revolvers in 1971 in response to the large demand for reproduction arms of the U.S. Civil War era. The immediate success of these initial revolvers then led to expansion to include other famous models of that period.

While incorporating the latest in technology, F. LLI Pietta maintains high quality and craftsmanship equal to the most skilled arms manufacturers operating in the Old World tradition. Each piece is produced under the most stringent quality control standards to assure compliance to tight specifications. The result of this philosophy of absolute quality are the trust and the respect of a demanding international clientele, including professional shooters.

Fausti

Fausti was founded in 1948 in Brescia, a city with a great and ancient tradition of arms manufacture. After many years of laborious and innovative design searches, together with strict selection of the best materials, Fausti is now able to combine new technologies with the time-tested and proven handcrafting methods in order to produce firearms of exceptional quality.

Their first gun crafted was a side-by-side, and side by sides continue to be the most recognizable symbol of the Fausti line, though state-of-the-art over/under shotguns occupy an important place in Fausti's product selection.

Today, Fausti is respected worldwide for its high-quality guns, firearms expressly created for any type of hunting and shooting. Known for their production guns, Fausti's also offer firearms to fit the desires of the most demanding collector. Recognized technical innovations combine with traditional hand craftsmanship so that Fausti's can offer the possibility of masterpieces: modern sporting arms that will increase their value through the years.

Modern Gunmaking at Pietta

Fausti's trademark is well known abroad by all collectors and lovers of arms. The company has also caught the attention of the international press, partially because it is run by three sisters called the "Gun Sisters." Elena, Giovanna and Barbara have inherited the company founded by their father, Cavaliere Ufficiale Stefano Fausti, and transformed it into one of the most dynamic entities in the field of arms manufacture, with about forty skilled employees producing fine quality firearms. Eighty percent of all finished product is sent abroad where the "made in Italy" by Fausti is greatly appreciated. Thanks to constant development and creation of new over/under and side-by-side models for the field or the range, the three Fausti sisters are excelling in a field traditionally dominated by men.

Howa/Hogue/HiViz .375 Ruger Rifle

Now, a Howa/Hogue Combination with the Ultimate in Horsepower!

The newly designed powerhouse caliber from Ruger and Hornady, has a cartridge case that is slightly larger in diameter than a .30-06, but shares the same overall case length. This means the new rifle caliber/rifle provides shooters with a standard length action, shorter bolt stroke and an easier feed, while producing better ballistics than the .375 H&H magnum.

Using the long-recognized Howa barreled action known for its strength, precision craftsmanship and accuracy, in combination with the Hogue Overmolded™ stock, a proven winner in non-slip gripping ability and shooting comfort, this new Howa/Hogue is being marketed under the Howa/Hogue model lineup that was originally introduced in 2006. Built with a 20", #2 contour barrel, the Howa/Hogue .375 Ruger will be available in either blued or stainless barreled actions, and with either a black or OD green Hogue stock and comes with Hi-Vis #3 front and rear sights.

Howa/Hogue Ranchland Compact Rifles

Back for its second year, the Ranchland Compact combines all of the best features needed in a compact, all-purpose “truck gun”. The Ranchland Compact is built on the tough and reliable Howa barreled action that features a forged steel, flat bottomed receiver; large recoil lug and hammer forged barrel. On top of that is a forged, one-piece bolt with two locking lugs, an M-16 style extractor and three position safety. All of this mounts in your choice of an OD Green, Coyote Sand or Black Hogue Overmolded® stock.

This stock features a non-slip, cobblestone grip for sure handling in all weather conditions, a fiberglass reinforced skeleton for strength and pillar bedding for rock-solid accuracy. The short, 20 inch lightweight barrel is free-floated and the rifle has proven itself in the field as a real tack driver with MOA, or better, groups at 100 yards.

New for 2009! The HOWA RANGLAND series of PACKAGE rifles (rifle and scope combo) will ALL come with a one-piece scope rail! The bigger news is that every Ranchland Package gun will come with a COLOR MATCHED, Nikko Stirling 3-10x42 Nightheater™ riflescope and rings. These scopes and rings are anodized to match the color of the stock of the rifle. OD Green Hogue stocks will have an OD Green anodized scope; Coyote Tan Hogue stocks will have a tan anodized scope. In addition, the Ranchland comes in a full camo dipped version (see next page for details)! Of course, the black Hogue stock version will have the traditional matte black Nikko Stirling Nightheater!

This short “truck gun” fits easily behind the seat of a pickup truck, across the front of a quad or tucked into the cab of farm equipment. It can be used in tight or awkward positions with ease, and grabbed in a hurry for that quick shot.

Comes with award-winning Nikko Stirling scopes.

Howa™

Precision Rifles & Barreled Actions

Now in its third year, the Howa/Axiom has proven to be THE choice of varmint hunters and target shooters alike, for a solid and accurate shooting platform. It's no secret that the Axiom stock from Blackhawk/Knoxx provides unequalled shooting design and ergonomics, plus a huge reduction in felt recoil. In fact, the heavier the caliber, the more recoil reduction that can be realized.

THIS STOCK IS THE 2008 WINNER OF THE NRA GOLDEN BULLSEYE AWARD

The Howa/Axiom features:

- Rugged lightweight synthetic construction
- Instantly adjustable length-of-pull from 11.5" to 15.5"
- Two recoil suppression devices for maximum recoil reduction of up to 70%
- Completely free-floated barrel for maximum accuracy
- CNC milled to specifically fit the Howa M-1500 action
- Available with Nikko Stirling scope package

BLACKHAWK!

Howa/Axiom Standard Barrel & Axiom Varminter

Blackhawk uses a cam and spring absorber in the pistol grip and another heavy spring in the stock tube. Both systems are separate units from the forend, allowing the stock to absorb recoil on impact. In addition, the Blackhawk Axiom stock offers a full four inches of L.O.P. adjustment, from 11.5 to 15.5 inches overall length of pull. The Howa barrel is 100% free-floated in the stock for the ultimate in accuracy. The Howa M-1500 offers as standard many features found in much more expensive rifles. Features like a forged receiver and forged, one-piece bolt that are both ported for safety, a three position safety, a one-piece guard and magazine box with hinged floor plate. The bolt also features two locking lugs and an M-16 style extractor.

The Howa/Axiom is ideally suited for either bench rest shooting or varmint/predator hunting. Five varmint calibers are available in the 24 inch Heavy Barrel and three calibers in the 20 inch Heavy Barrel version. The Standard Barrel Axiom comes with a 22 inch barrel length and is available in 9 popular calibers.

Howa Varminter Supreme & Thumbhole Varminter Supreme

Howa Thumbhole Varminter and Varminter Supreme rifles take performance to new heights. Built around the proven M-1500 action, these rifles have 24-inch hammer-forged bull barrels with recessed muzzle crown in either non-glare blue or matte stainless steel. The M-1500's acclaimed trigger adjusts for sear engagement and weight of pull. A three-position safety allows safe single-loading and secure bolt lock-down. Recoil pads and swivel studs are standard.

The Varminter Supreme stock is designed with a raised comb and rollover cheekpiece, a full pistol-grip with palm-filling swell, a broad beavertail forend and vented stock for barrel cooling.

The Thumbhole Varminter adds a high, straight comb and a more vertical pistol grip that's ideal for shooting off a bench or rest. For hunting, pest control, or match competition, you can't go wrong choosing a Howa M-1500 Varminter Supreme rifle. The Howa Varminter Supreme and Thumbhole Varminter Supreme rifles come in Nutmeg (brown) and Pepper (gray) laminated stocks.

- Forged steel, flat-bottomed receiver with large recoil lug and hammer-forged barrel. Heavy Varmint barrels have recessed muzzle crowns.
- Forged, one-piece, bind-proof bolt with dual locking lugs, M-16-style extractor and large cocking indicator.
- Three-position safety allows safe single-loading and secure bolt lock-down.
- Bolt and receiver are ported to vent away high-pressure gases in the unlikely event of a pierced primer or ruptured case.
- Receiver rings are precision drilled and tapped for accurate, rigid scope mounting.
- One-piece guard and magazine box with hinged floorplate.
- Choice of short and long actions, standard and heavy barrels, in blued and stainless steel.

BREAK-IN PROCEDURE FOR GUN BARRELS USING JACKETED BULLETS

For the first ten shots we recommend using jacketed bullets with a nitro powder load (Most Factory Ammo). Clean the oil out of the barrel before each shot using a simple window cleaner (like Windex®) which will soak the oil out of the pores. After firing each cartridge, use a good copper cleaner (one with ammonia) to remove the copper fouling from the barrel. We do not recommend anything with an abrasive in it since you are trying to seal the barrel, not keep it agitated.

After cleaning with bore cleaner, clean again with window cleaner after each shot. Use window cleaner because many bore cleaners use a petroleum base which you want to remove before firing the next shot. This will keep the carbon from building up in the barrel (oil left in the pores, when burned, turns to carbon).

To keep the temperature cool in the barrel, wait at least 5 minutes between break-in shots. The barrel must remain cool during the break-in procedure. If the barrel is allowed to heat up during the break-in, it will destroy the steel's ability to develop a home registration point, or memory. It will have a tendency to make the barrel "walk" when it heats up in the future. We have all seen barrels that, as they heat up, start to shoot high and then "walk" to the right. This was caused by improperly breaking in the barrel (generally by sitting at a bench rest and shooting 20 rounds in 5 minutes or so). If you take a little time in the beginning and do it right, you will be much more pleased with the barrel in the future.

Look into the end of the barrel after firing a shot, and you will see a light copper-colored wash in the barrel. Remove this before firing the next shot. Somewhere during the procedure, around shot 6 or 7, it will be obvious that the copper color is no longer appearing in the barrel. Continue the window cleaner and bore cleaner applications through shot 10.

Following the initial ten shots, you then may shoot 2 rounds, cleaning between each pair of shots, for the next 10 shots. This is simply insuring that the burnishing process has been completed.

In theory, you are closing the pores of the barrel metal that have been opened and exposed through the cutting and hand lapping procedures.

BREAK-IN PROCEDURE FOR BARRELS USING LEAD BULLETS

The same shooting-cleaning process may be used when firing lead bullets and black powder with this exception: shoot 2 cartridges, then clean for the first 30 rounds. Naturally, you will use a cleaner appropriate for black powder. You can also use harder lead if available to accelerate the break in. This will accomplish the same as the jacketed bullets.

It may take 80 to 100 rounds to break in with lead. That is why we recommend using jacketed bullets when possible. After this procedure, your barrel's interior surface will be sealed and should shoot cleaner and develop less fouling for the rest of its shooting life.

Puma Bounty Hunter & M-87 Shotguns

Bounty Hunter

Based on the gun that cowboy character Josh Randall carried in the 1950's television series by the same name, Legacy Sports International announces the release of the Bounty Hunter Model 92 under their popular Puma brand. Manufactured in Italy by Chiappa Firearms, the Bounty Hunter is considered by Federal Law a handgun, not a rifle.

It's 12 inch barrel and 24 inch overall length make it ideal as a pack gun or a nostalgia collectible. With a six round magazine, the Bounty Hunter also features a large, 3/4 loop lever and the same beautiful wood and metal finish as the new line of full sized Model 92's. Available in .45 Colt, .44-40 or .44 Magnum.

Bounty Hunter

M-1887 Shotguns

Designed by John Browning for Winchester Repeating Arms, the Model 1887 was considered the first successful repeating shotgun. This lever action shotgun is available in two barrel lengths - 22" and 28" - both with color case hardened finish. Equipped with 5 shot magazines, these shotguns are fun and effective for use in the field as a hunting gun. In addition, we are offering a Fast Load version in 22' barrel, only, that has been factory modified to accept two rounds through the breech - an ideal characteristic for Cowboy Action Shooting. All three versions of the shotgun also employ a highly effective ejection system that removes spent rounds and rechambers a new, live round in a few seconds.

Escort Slug Shotguns

Escort offers several options in shotguns, for game-specific hunting applications and self defense. New for 2009 is the Escort Slug series. Built on the tough and reliable Escort action, this model features a slug barrel made by Badger Barrels, Inc. These barrels feature cut rifling with a fast, 1 in 26 twist. The Escort Slug models are designed for sabot slugs only – not lead slugs. If a full slug barrel is not your way to go, we are also offering rifled choke tubes by Pattern Master.

- 1-26 “Fast Twist” Cut Rifling. The fastest 12-gauge rifling in the industry. We work with the major Ammunition companies to make our barrels perform flawlessly with the new high speed Sabot slugs.
- Machined Cantilevers. No Castings here. Every one of our cantilevers is machined to exact specification out of Match Grade Steel. Every scope locks in for a perfect fit.
- Fit and Function. Every one of our barrels goes through a rigorous inspection at every step of manufacturing to ensure smooth fit and function with unbelievable accuracy for the customer.

Information - Use of Fast-Twist Slug Barrel NOT FOR USE WITH LEAD SLUGS - You will not like the performance since the barrels will lead up severely. Lead slug ammunition is meant for smooth bore or very slow-twist rifling. It is fairly easy to recommend types of shells for pumps and bolt actions because of the solid lockup. But with autos, due to the different lock-up types, different action spring tensions, and different locations of the gas ports in relation to the front of the chamber, ammunition recommendation is not as easy. Different ammunition makers use different propellants even though none load hotter than 12,000 PSI. Due to the different types of propellants, peak pressure occurs at different locations in the barrel. With the gas ports being located in different areas from one model to the next, you must find the brand of ammunition that most closely matches your firearm needs. The bolt tightness or the spring tension changes the accuracy. Six out of ten guns of the same type may like one brand, but the other four may all take different types to get the same performance. The hammer strike or even the extractor pulling the bolt to the right changes the difference in the powder ignition. They weren't built as match rifles, but the with right barrel and ammuntions, they can shoot like them.

GameKing riflescopes are designed for today's hunters. This line of riflescopes spans models from the 3-9x40 up to the powerful 6-24x50 AO Illuminated.

The range of the GameKing's variable power magnification allows hunters greater flexibility. You can simply adjust the zoom according to the conditions of your hunting terrain. When the woods are thickest or the game is close, simply adjust to a lower power. When distance shots are necessary and the terrain is open, zoom in for a more precise view.

6-24x50 Illum Mil Dot

GameKing riflescopes include:

- High Grade Lenses – Optical clarity that allows for greater contrast in the field.
- Optical Coatings – Coatings designed to reduce reflected light as it passes through the riflescope, greatly improving early morning and twilight visibility.
- Adjustable Objectives – Parallax and Fine Focus are critical in riflescopes used to hunt game over a large range of distances. Most models of these scopes are designed with an adjustable parallax and a fine focus to increase your hunting capabilities. Many hunters use these features for ranging estimation.
- Finger Adjustable Bezel – Under the watertight adjustment caps are accurate, finger-adjustable bezels to quickly adjust windage and elevation.
- Illuminated Models – Have glass etched Mil Dot reticles that provide crisp illumination without glare. Illumination is adjustable for brightness, allowing use in daylight or twilight conditions.

Nikko Stirling Mountmaster & Mountmaster AO Series

Hunting small game with airguns or .22 caliber rifles is gaining popularity. It is a challenging sport, as are the small, reactive “plinking” targets available today. Normally, a riflescope is focused and parallax free at 100 yards. However, when the game or target is closer, focusing and/or parallax adjustment are necessary to ensure a hit.

Mountmaster Series

The new Mountmaster Series of riflescopes has been developed to provide fast focus and parallax correction through adjustable objective (AO) lenses. With the Mountmaster Series, you can adjust right down to 10 yards!

These well-made, yet competitively priced scopes can stand up to real use. Mountmaster scopes come with full metal adjustment housings for greater reliability. Each “click” equals ¼ inch of adjustment. Mountmaster scopes come standard with a Mil Dot reticle. All Mountmaster scopes come with 3/8 inch, quick detachable mounts.

Mountmaster AO Series

The Mountmaster AO Series features a strong, 3/8 inch dovetail mount ring. In addition, we have added a recoil stop screw that allows the scope to be mounted to powerful airguns without the fear of shifting under their sharp, double recoil.

The Mountmaster AO Series also features finger adjustable windage and elevation bezels. The scope is fitted with a Mil Dot reticle and comes in a matte black finish.

All Mountmaster scopes are waterproof and nitrogen filled.

Les Johnson's
Predator Quest
TELEVISION

Les Johnson

Les Johnson Calls & DVDs

Working with call designer Kirby Taylor, Les Johnson has come up with three calls packed with technological advances built specifically for predator callers. These calls have undergone extensive engineering and field-testing to heighten the predator's interest and bring them in!

Ruffidawg

Grab any predators attention with the loud-raspy sounds of the Ruffidawg. Start off your set with this high-volume call that creates a jackrabbit or fawn in distress sound that will drive predators crazy. A contoured mouthpiece creates less lip fatigue and the sleek, D shaped bell fits perfectly in your hand for added comfort.

Ruffidawg Coaxer

A soft-volume call that works great for opening up a stand or coaxing any bobcat, coyote or fox to close that final distance. The contoured mouthpiece creates less lip fatigue and the sleek, D shaped bell fits perfectly in your hand for added comfort.

Ruffidawg Jr.

The cottontail/jackrabbit in distress is every predator caller's failsafe. Plus, the new Ruffidawg Jr. has an extra raspy sound that predators can't resist, even if they aren't hungry. A contoured mouthpiece creates less lip fatigue and the sleek, D shaped bell fits perfectly in your hand for added comfort.

Every Ruffidawg™ Call comes with Instructional DVD, Two Extra Reeds, and a Neck Lanyard.

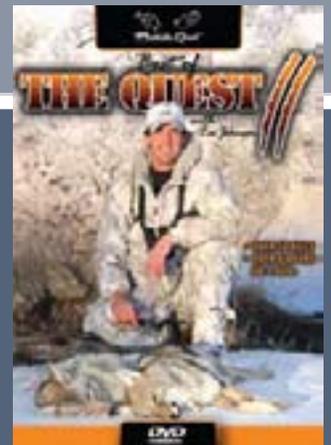

Best of the Quest and Best of the Quest II are fast-paced recaps of entire seasons of Predator Quest TV. These action-packed 3-DVD sets hold over 6 hours each of strategies and tactics for outsmarting predators.

Best of the Quest DVD

See why Les's simple tactics have put him on a platform that no other predator caller in the world has been able to compare. Predators were called from 6 different states, as well as Canada on this action packed 3-DVD set. Over 50 exciting kills, both shotgun and rifle, and numerous tips from one of the leading predator callers in the world. This is some of the best predator calling action available.

Best of the Quest II DVD

BOQII recaps the second season of Predator Quest, plus adds footage never before seen on any Predator Quest episode. This action packed 3-DVD set takes predator calling enthusiasts from the brushy draws of Oklahoma to the wide open snow covered Red Desert in Wyoming. Numerous coyotes are called using Les's simple and very well explained approach to calling predators. Johnson also demonstrates techniques and tips with rifle, optics, e-calls, hand calls, shotgun loads, choke tubes, and camo. Whether you want to see the hard hitting rifle shots or the fur flying shotgun loads making their impact, there is bound to be some close encounters on Best of the Quest II.
