THE PLATFORM/ THE DESERT EAGLE PISTOL

The entire Mark XIX Component System is based on a single platform. With its gas operation, rotating bolt and all-steel construction, this is the heart of the firearm. Once you've purchased a Mark XIX Desert Eagle Pistol, you can change the barrel length or the caliber in seconds, if you have the appropriate Mark XIX components on hand. (See the listing of components.)

The Mark XIX Desert Eagle Pistol offers true interchangeability. Six different pistols are available — .357 Magnum, .44 Magnum or .50 A.E., each with a 6-inch or 10-inch barrel. Purchase one pistol and you have the platform to build the other five with a simple switch of components (barrel, magazine and sometimes bolt assembly).

TECHNICAL DATA

General Features

- The Desert Eagle Pistol is a gas-operated, semi-automatic pistol with a rotating four lug bolt for positive lock-up.
- The barrel is locked in place, assuring a high degree of accuracy.
- The polygonal rifling reduces barrel wear, is easy to clean and very accurate.
- Anatomically formed grip, ideal hand seating angle and comfortable grip dimensions permit rapid, accurate, instinctive shooting. The Desert Eagle is designed for two-handed shooting.
- The Desert Eagle Pistol fires standard factory ammunition.
- DEP's have an automatic slide lock that holds the slide open after the last shot is fired.
- The 7/8" dovetail rib on the barrel has cross slots to accommodate scope rings (available as an option).

Safety

The safety is ambidextrous — it can be operated by right-handed and left-handed shooters. When the safety is on, the firing pin is blocked, disconnecting the trigger bar from the sear at the same time. Extensive testing has shown the Desert Eagle is safe from accidental firing with safety engaged.

Construction

Desert Eagle Pistol parts are machined or precision-cast and machined to strict military standards from high-quality steel.

Magnum Research's patent-pending gas-assisted blowback system eliminates problems related to time-to-peak-pressure issues with .17 HMR and .22 WMR ammo. Gas-assisted blowback is safe and reliable, and it promotes accuracy. This feature is found on all .17 HMR and .22 WMR rifles.

The small hole in front of the chamber bleeds a small amount of expanding gas as the bullet passes it.

Patent-pending gas block (2-1/2" long) disperses the expanding gasses and diffuses them safely and quietly.

ACCURATE. INNOVATIVE. AFFORDABLE.

*Only brushed chrome, polished chrome, and bright nickel Desert Eagle finishes can be jeweled. Why not the other finishes? Matte chrome and satin nickel are too dull to jewel, 24K gold is too soft and titanium is too hard to jewel, and the polished & blued finish is susceptible to rust if jeweled.
